GUIDELINES FOR COMPLETION OF IOM CONCEPT NOTE TEMPLATE

This template should be used for all concept notes submitted to IOM, including those responding to a IOM-issued CEI, and those submitted on an unsolicited basis.

Section 1. Concept note overview

This section provides a summary of the prospective partner's concept note as well as identifying information. If the submission is in response to a IOM-issued CEI, please reference the CEI ID, which can be found in the "Project Details" field of the CEI published on IOM website and/or UN Partner Portal.

Population focus: Please identify the population focus of the programme.

- Direct beneficiaries are population groups who are the direct recipients of programme activities. For example, 50 teachers in rural primary schools receiving training, or 200 children aged 6 months to 5 years receiving nutritional supplements.
- Indirect beneficiaries are population groups who are not the direct recipients of programme activities, but may indirectly benefit. For example, 1,000 students in rural primary schools benefiting from teachers with improved classroom teaching practices, or 5,000 community members hearing a radio broadcast on improved child-feeding practices.

Programme budget: Please indicate the programme budget and the currency.

- Contribution from prospective partner: Please indicate a costed amount of the prospective partner's contribution to the proposed programme.
- Contribution requested from IOM: Please indicate a costed amount of the funds requested from IOM for the proposed programme.

Section 2. Programme description

This section is composed of nine fields that provide a description of the proposed programme. Word limits are included in each of the fields.

Section 3. Expected results, performance indicators, activities, implementation period and budget

This section outlines the expected results from the proposed programme, as well as the performance indicators, activities, implementation period and activity-level budgets associated with each result.

Result statement: Please indicate the high-level result statement to which the programme will contribute.

- If the concept note is submitted in response to a IOM-issued CEI, please ensure the result statement is linked to the "Expected results" described in the "Project Details" field of the CEI published on IOM website and/or UN Partner Portal.
- If the concept note is submitted on an unsolicited basis, please formulate an appropriate result statement based on what the proposed programme will achieve.

Programme outputs: Programme outputs refer to services or products resulting from the programme. Each programme output should be accompanied by performance indicators, and be linked to the activities and activity-level budgets required to achieve it. One or more programme outputs may contribute to the achievement of the result statement.

- Performance indicators: The metrics used by the prospective partner to measure and monitor progress towards the programme output.
 - Baseline: The value of the performance indicator at the starting point, prior to the onset of programme implementation.
 - Target: The intended value of the performance indicator upon the conclusion of programme implementation.

- Means of verification: The specific data source(s) used to obtain the status of each of the performance indicators.
- Activities: The actions the prospective partner will implement under the proposed programme to achieve the desired programme output(s). Multiple activities may be required to contribute to the achievement of a programme output.
- Implementation period: The time frame in which the partner proposes to implement the specified activities. The implementation period can be specified in months or another more appropriate unit of time measure.
- Activity-level budgets: For each activity, the prospective partner should indicate the amount that it plans to contribute, and the amount that is being requested from IOM. Activity-level budgeting would reflect, for example:
 - Cash for activities, such as workshops or trainings;
 - Cost of supplies that directly assist beneficiaries or beneficiary institutions, including warehousing, transport and assembly;
 - Technical assistance and costs of technical staff to directly support beneficiaries or beneficiary institutions (experts in health, education, protection, etc.);
 - Cost of surveys and other data collection activities in relation to beneficiaries or measurement of expected results.

Programme output: Effective and efficient programme management: A fixed, standard output included as a part of all concept notes, and encompassing those costs not specifically associated with the implementation of the programme. There is no need to include performance indicators for effective and efficient programme management. All effective and efficient programme management costs should be pro-rated according to their contribution to the programme, and include:

- In-country management and support staff costs (representation, planning, coordination, logistics, admin, finance);
- Operational costs (office space, equipment, office supplies, maintenance);
- Planning, monitoring, evaluation and communication costs (venue, travels).
